ATTENTION TURNED TO CORN SPECULATORS LEAVE WHEAT PIT FOR THE COARSER GRAINS.

Dry Weather in Corn Belt Encouraging Bulls-Strength Imparted to All Other Markets-Visible Wheat Much Reduced.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Corn absorbed all the attention in the speculative pits to-day. Wheat ruled drill, but firm. July wheat closed &c higher. September Re lower and December gained &c. Corn and outs test its each. Perk left of Nige up, lard unchanged and ribs Siglic higher.

There was an enormous business done in corn and Saturday's advance was well maintained until near the end of the sension. The weather was the only factor of importance and that was on the side of the buils. The corn belt was without rains ever Sunday and the weather bureau furecast gave promise of none for thrity-six hours. The wheat pit ceased to be attractive to the builk of the grain apeculators who crowded the somewhat confined area in the corn pit to a most uncomfortable degree. A shower to rain on LaSails ettered had a tendency to create weakness near the close. There was generous profit taking by the smaller holders on the builges and offerings from this source greatly sided reactions. September started unchanged to be lower, at from 34c Onte again illustrated their ability to follow corn. Oais again illustrated their ability to follow corn. September opened the lower, at 194c, advanced to 194c to and reacted to 195c, the closing figure. Speculation in provisions was rather timid because of yellow fewer fears. The strength in corn had a steadying influence. There was also some improvement in both the Southern and foreign demand. September pork opened 10c lower, at 19.90, rose to $10.00 the reacted to $10.00 th at the close. September lard began 21c lower, at $5.67 th advanced to $0.725, then soid off to $5.79, the closing figure. September ribs started 5c higher, at $5.75 then soid off to $5.79, the closing figure. Stocks and Bonds.

NEW YORK, July 18.—The downward movement in stocks to-day was checked here before the close, and the level of prices brought back slightly above Saturday's close. But it can not be said that the market was sustained by any buying demand, for its lethargy was aimost complete. The break of 4½ points in Metropolitan Street Railway, due to the pending suspension of traffic on some of its lines during a reconstruction period, was the main unsettling factor in the morning. Quits a heavy decrease in earnings of the New York Central for June, and the shrinkage in the east bound rail freight movement, due to the lively competition of the lake lines were also factors of weakness. New York Central's decline was however, only fractional, and it recovered 1½ in the late dealings. Buying of Brooklyn Rapid Transit on the continued increase in samings was also a sustaining factor, and the recent pressure against the coalers cessed, those stocks generally showing gains. All indications point to a coming redundancy in the money market, but so evidence of an overflow of funds into stocks was manifest to-day. The allotment of the government bonds, it is felt certain, will result in the release of large sums on account of rejected subscriptions. The usual demand of interier merchants for money at this seried is not evident in the New York Lenders of money, therefore, have little hope of getting better rates in the immediate future. Renewed attention is called to the fact that the trade balance in favor of this country has been $155.000.000 for the year, while the net imports of gold have been barely $100,000,000. Making all possible allowance for the various items is the concealed adverse trade balance to favor remains still unliquidated, and available on demand. The hesistation in the stock market is therefore difficult to explain.

Business in houds was light to-day, and prices sugged early, but later recovered.

Dry Goods. Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Dry goods buyers increase in numbers in the first hand market and in jobbing stores. The print cloth market is still a stagnant one. There is little new trading in either extras or odd goods. Staple cottons are quiet and featureless. Brown goods for domestic use are sold slowly. They are firm, as a rule. Export sheetings and drills are more active, but they are capable of improvement. Bleached cottons are showing no results of a surprising character, though inquiry is freer. Coarse colored cottons are unchanged in any grade. Converted goods are slightly more active, the trade in limings having rained somewhat in bulk. colored cottons are unchanged in any grade. On-verted goods are slightly more active, the trade in linings having gained somewhat in bulk.

Printed cottons are quiet and generally unchanged. Pail fancies sell fairly well on supplementary or-ders. Staples are featureless. Hobes, cambrays and the like are fairly active at good prices. Ginghams still active and satisfactory.

HIS UNINTENTIONAL INSULT. But It Cost the Businesslike Postmaster His Life, Just the Same.

master we've had in this town; there was one afore you came; but I hope you'll have better luck than he did. I hope you will." "Why, what happened to him, major? What did he do?"

"Died-sudden." "Died-sudden."

"Oh! Is that so? But what was the matter with him? What ailed him?"

"Nuthin' particular; he just died. Wa'n't that 'nough?"

"Yes, I should think it was. But surely there must have been something that killed him."

"Yes, there was—Colonel Parker."

"Oh!"

him."
"Yes, there was—Colonel Parker."
"Oh!"
During the painful silence that followed the major continued to swing his feet idly against the counter on which he was sitting.
"You see, it was this way." he at last continued. "The colonel he was a great letter writer—wrote more letters than everybody eise in town put together. Still does, far as that goes. Well, sir, the colonel, bein' a gentleman of the strictest honor, didn't usually trouble himself to put stamps on his letters; he'd just write up in the corner like, 'Charge to box It.' Now between gentlemen, of course, that was all that was necessary. But that derned Yankee, it seemed, wan't used to gentlemen's ways, so he thought he'd ought to put a stop to it. Reckon he's sorry he did now. Well, sir, anyway, in comes the colonel one day into this store, and 'tother Yank was behind the bars, just like you are now, lookin' for all the world like a Jalibird. The colonel walked up to the window to ask for his mail, but before he could get out a word out came a letter shoved at him—one of his own, still unstamped.
"What's that? cried the colonel, flushin' up at the insult.
"That, sir, 'says that big fool of a postmaster—that, sir, is a letter you put in this office.'
"Hat, sir, 'says that big fool of a postmaster—that, sir, is a letter you put in this office.'
"Because it hasn't got a stamp on it.'
"The solonel? Well, I'd like to know what that means,' says the colonel, pointin' to the writin' in the corner; 'don't it say there Charge to box 1??
"Yes, it says that all right 'nough,' answered that foolhardy idlot,' but I'm thred o' that sort o' thing, and I ain't goin' to stand it any longer.' Blowed if those wa'n't his very words."
"Eut, major, the colonel—what did he do?"
"The colonel? Oh, he shot him, of course," "Oh!"

do?""The colonel? Oh, he shot him,of course,"
"Oh!"
"Yes, sir; and what gets me is that they were derned near havin' litigation about the matter."

Remenyl Ate No Meat. From the Chicago Times-Herald.

Remenyi was a vegetarian. He believed that he might live to be a century old if he avoided the use of meat. His favorite dishes were limburger cheese, pumpernickel and hard crackers. Apollinaris was his only drink for years. Many a time after concert hours have I ordered this bill of fare for him and listened to him say for the thousandth time. cert hours have I ordered this bit of fare for him and listened to him say for the thousandth time:

"My dear, man is bloody by nature, refined by education. Meat debases. Could I fiddle as I do if I devoured beef like a beast? Impossible. My body needs little to keep it strong, but my mind must have every attention. Listen."

Then he would catch up his fiddle case, bring forth the instrument, flourish the bow over his head, fix his twinkling eyes on me and play. What? I rarely knew. Usually something of his own—a fantasy of rage, the earthquake, the surf in a storm the plaint of a woman's voice, calling of mocking birds—all ending in a sigh.

"See." he would exclaim, "one keeps away from meat when he can do that."

Remenyl attended the congresses of vergetarians, followed their teachings and died, as we of every school of diet must, when the cord snapped.

And all points West. The Union Pacific is shortest line and makes quickest time. Only 71 hours to Portland. No other line does it. Offices, 1000 Main street, 1053 Union avenue and Union station. Telephone 1109.

PRESIDENT M'COY RETURNS FROM HIS WASHINGTON TRIP

His Mission Was to Get an Interpres

tation of the New Revenue Law

as Affecting the Yards-Visitors in With Stock.

President John C. McCov is back from Washington, whither he went a week ago in the interest of the exchange to get an official interpretation of the new revenue law as affecting the trade at the yards. He had several interviews with Colonel Boyd, assistant attorney general, and left with assistant attorney general, and left with him a written statement of the manner in which the live trade is conducted here. Colonel Boyd promised him to take the matter up at an early date and make rul-ing upon it. Until then the trade will con-tinue to put its own interpretation upon the law, as they understand it, and work along the lines it has laid down since July L.

Willis R. Munger has resigned the book-keepership of the Charles Dixon Live Stock Commission Company and is now of-fice man of Rice Bros. & Nixon, a branch of the Chicago firm of that name recently established here.

There were several bunches of very fine hogs here yesterday. E. O. Fitts, of Cuba, Kas, was in with seventy-eight handsome Poland China hogs averaging 25 pounds that sold at $4.00, the top of the market.

"The country about Davis, I. T., is in good shape," said Trout & Orton, who came in from there yesterday with cattle. "We have had plenty of rain and grass is good and cattle doing well. The number of marketable cattle held there this season is fully 50 per cent short, compared with last year, but, including young stock, calves and she stuff, the number of cattle on hand is much the same as last season." The Armours opened their new packing house at Omaha yesterday. It will work about 2,000 men.

J. G. Forest, manager for Clay, Robinson & Co. here at the yards, slipped off yesterday and was quietly married to a Miss Osborn, one of Hyde park's fairest daughters.

St. Louis is failing behind in its live stock trade this year. The receipts there since January I show a failing of 6 33,000 in cattle, 8,500 in hogs, and 160,000 in sheep.

There was little more doing in stockers and feeders here the past week, though fewer moving than last year. Shipments to the country were 112 cars, against forty-seven cars the week previous and 188 cars the same week last year.

There were 1,600 cattle taken here the last week by exporters and for shipment east on orders. Packers got here yesterday 4,850 hogs. Shippers did nothing.

The average weight of hogs sold here for the week ending July 14 was 215 pounds against 217 pounds the same week last year. John T. Sparks is still up in Nebraska catching grayling and bass by the score. Packers' purchases here the past week were: Cattle, 19,494; hogs, 69,481, and sheep, 10,349, against the same week last year of cattle, 19,528; hogs, 53,572, and sheep, 5,342.
